

DUFFERIN PARENT SUPPORT NETWORK

presents

Difficult Behaviour...Bright Future

with Michael Reist

Want to know how to handle your children's difficult traits and behaviour?

We can show you how to teach them to channel their behaviour in positive ways.

attitude
ARGUMENTATIVE stubborn distracted hyperactive nosy DRAMATIC!
UnPreDICTable
DEFIANT

Free admission!
Donations appreciated.

"Difficult" is in the eye of the beholder. A "difficult" child is not a problem to solve but a mystery to be understood.

Wednesday, April 26, 2017 at 7:00 PM

Orangeville District Secondary School
22 Faulkner Street, Orangeville

Michael Reist is a nationally recognized authority on the needs of children. He is the author of several books, including the best-selling Raising Boys in a New Kind of World.

A classroom teacher for over thirty years, Michael now works in private practice where he is a mentor to young people and their parents. He specializes in working with children's challenging behaviours and helping parents understand them.

When you better understand your children's behaviour and see how their "difficult" traits can benefit them in the future, you can help them learn to develop their strengths in positive and productive ways.

